Sub: Regarding practical examination regulations for B.Sc.Nursing (Semester Scheme) - reg.

Dear Sir,

Refer to your email dated 08.07.2024 regarding subject mentioned above, with Ref: Reg (E)/Exam/Nursing/June-2024.

In this regard it is stated that as per the revised B.Sc(N) curriculum, practical examination has to be conducted with a maximum of 20 students/day only. The reason being that an examiner cannot examine more than 20 students in a day objectively and effectively. Having the same set of examiners for the same batch will permit similar pattern of grading for all the students belonging to the same batch in the same institution eliminating variation in marking and this is the fundamental principle to be followed.

However, to enable the university, many batches can be conducted in one practical centre (clinical area), provided the clinical area is big enough with all clinical facilities for conducting exams for a large number of students. But the same batch in the same college must be examined only by the same set of examiners and one examiner cannot examine more than 20 students in a day. Combining the groups and dividing the day by conducting DOP-practical in the clinical area in the morning and OSCE in the evening might be helpful. When there are a large number of colleges, a large number of faculty to be examiners are also available if they have enough number in every institution as per INC norms.

Arranging the exams in different ways can be planned but the basic principle of having the same set of examiners for the same batch in the same institution and having 20 students to examine per day by individual examiners should be followed.
