Sir,

Sub: Feedback on Access to e-journals and e-resources subscribed and provided under HELINET Consortium of RGUHS for the year 2014 and Recommendations if any, for additional e-resources required for the year 2015.

The subscribed e-journals and e-resources subscribed and provided under HELINET Consortium of RGUHS for the year 2014(January to December) have been activated and which are being accessed with the following modes in the affiliated colleges of RGUHS.

1. The colleges who are already having Static IP address, they have been activated to access the e-journals and e-resources from the respective publishers.
2. The colleges those who do not have the Static IP address alternatively, they have been provided the Institutional user ID and password for accessing the HELINET e-resources vide this university Letter even No. dated 14.02.2014.

The instruction of using User ID and Password given to the College / Institute is confidential and should not be misused other than your bona-fide students and teachers. The principal and librarian of the colleges have the responsibility to ensure the fair use of the subscribed resources under the copyright act. To overcome this misuse, it is advised to go for IP based Authentication in your College / Institute.

It is also advised to have minimum 2 mbps internet bandwidth with leased line & other infrastructure facilities for effective use of e-resources provided under HELINET consortium.

Further, all the Principals of the affiliated colleges are hereby requested to furnish their feedback on the titles of e-journals and other e-resources in their respective faculties being provided under HELINET consortium of RGUHS are useful and accessible. The details of the e-resources in the respective faculties along with the format to furnish the feedback is enclosed herein and also made available on the RGUHS Website www.rguhs.ac.in through its Digital Library Page.
