

Dr. Pallavi Sarji Uthkarsh, MBBS from Bangalore Medical College and Research Institute. M.D. (Preventive and Social Medicine) from M.S. Ramaiah Medical College, Diplomate in national board (DNB), Diploma in Practical dermatology from Cardiff University U.K. and Pursuant of PhD., from Maastricht University, U.K. is currently working as an Associate Professor and I/C Head of Rajiv Gandhi Institute of Public Health and Centre for Disease Control at Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences.

She has undergone certified training from John Hopkins International injury research unit on prevention and control of road traffic injuries in high and middle income countries, trained in transport research and injury prevention activities at (TRIPP) IIT, Delhi and in basic epidemiology from Christian Medical College, Vellore. She has working as a faculty in a medical college for 6 years.

Her research in the areas of injury surveillance, pre hospital care, trauma care, pedestrian and two wheeler safety, child safety, breast feeding has helped in pooling evidence for health policy actions in the State of Karnataka.

She has been an invited speaker at world safety conference held in LONDON, THAILAND and FINLAND, she has also been an invited speaker at international conference in IIT, DELHI, Australasian injury prevention conference at SYDNEY and international forum in quality and safely in health care held at Honkong.

She been a Chief Coordinator of “WEAR HELMET CAMPAIGN ” which succeeded in enforcing helmet law in Tumkur District. Karnataka State and Coordinator of state wide “reduce speed save lives campaign” targeted towards youth of Karnakata.